

a goodbye in style

Getting lost, overcoming a fear of heights and a toast high above London. The Bugaboo UK team enjoyed a great evening on Thursday 22nd November, as they bid farewell to Frank Dekker. Frank started in March this year as the Interim Country Manager for Bugaboo UK while Bibi Valentine took 6 months maternity leave (who will leave Bugaboo UK in february 2008).

Some team members were delayed on the way to the event (after taking a wrong turn), but this allowed the others time to overcome their fear of heights. The UK team was about to begin the night with a flight on the London Eye. After some deep breaths all 11 Bugaboo members got on the 135 metre tall Ferris wheel and the UK team was able to bring out a toast and drink champagne at the top. With a breathtaking night view over the city of London the entire team was able to say goodbye to Frank in style. The night continued in Latin style at restaurant Las Iguanas accompanied by a few rounds of Mojito's. A huge thank you goes out to Frank for his support during Bibi's absence.
